Office for Students with Disabilities
Student Responsibilities and Dispute Process

You have completed the interactive process necessary to establish accommodations for your courses at Antelope Valley College. Based on the documentation you supplied, and the information you shared during your intake counseling appointment, we have approved your academic adjustments or accommodations. Please review them carefully. If you have any questions, don't hesitate to contact an OSD Disability Services Specialist.

Furthermore, if your circumstances change and or if you have additional disability documentation you should speak with OSD staff to discuss possible modifications to your accommodations. Also remember it is your responsibility to meet with your instructor during the first week of school to discuss your accommodations so you can work cooperatively as you strive to attain your educational goals. In addition, it is your responsibility to follow all OSD guidelines and processes in order to ensure the smooth delivery of services.

If disagreements, possible misunderstandings or a denial of your classroom accommodations occur between you and your instructor, you should speak with an OSD Disability Services Specialist or the OSD Director so the issue can be resolved. Moreover, if you are denied a request for an accommodation from an OSD Disability Services Specialist or the OSD Director you may appeal your request to Dr. Erin Vines, Vice President of Student Services at (661) 722-6303.
