
FPD Quick Guide – Full-Time Faculty

Full-time Faculty Requirements for Base Load

Full-time faculty must complete 60 hours of FPD each academic year for their base load. Full-time faculty must complete a minimum of 16 hours in Standard 1. This requirement may be completed through any of the identified Standard 1 – Faculty Academy training events listed in the calendar. Full-time faculty must complete a minimum of 44 hours of Standard 2 FPD unless they opt to complete all their hours in Standard 1.

Overload Hours Requirements

For classroom faculty teaching an overload assignment, the number of overload hours worked per week during a normal instructional week per semester equals the number of professional development hours required for that semester (i.e., three overload hours per week per semester = three development hours per semester).

Banked Leave

Faculty who draw from their banked overload hours in a future semester for the purpose of working a reduced load, or taking a semester leave, will not be required to meet additional professional development hours. They will have met their professional development requirement.

Sabbatical Leave

If a faculty member is on sabbatical leave for one semester, he/she is responsible for only 24 hours of professional development for the academic year and still needs to record their attended events in Cornerstone. This pro-rated obligation may be fulfilled at any time during the academic year. Of the 24 hours, 5 hours must be completed in Standard 1, seven and a half hours in Standard 2, and the remaining 17.5 hours can be completed in Standard 3. Upon returning from Sabbatical, faculty are required to present an overview of his/her project during the following Faculty Recognition week.

Due Dates for FPD Reporting

Faculty Professional Development record keeping changed and there are new work flows and terminology to go with these changes.

There is no longer a 'contract' that needs to be completed at the beginning of the semester. Instead, deans will be able to check using reports at any time to see the progress of faculty throughout the semester and year.

Instructors should enter the events they plan to attend prior to the 5th Monday of the Fall semester and they will ensure their events attended are correct prior to June 1.

Deans can run reports at the beginning of the semester to ensure faculty have entered their planned events and at the end of the semester or AY to ensure attendance.

Self-reporting of attendance is handled by checking in/signing in at each event.
